Ordering Upholstery

Lead Times

Production and delivery lead time will be quoted at time of order, this may be dependent on variable factors per territory including fabric or leather availability. You will be advised of the expected time line at point of order confirmation. Production will only commence when fabric has been received at the factory.

Resident only stock hold Category 1 'Revision' fabric.

Manufacture

Resident have upholstery manufacture hubs in New Zealand, Europe and the USA.

Customer Own Material

Customer Own Material (C.O.M) production lead time will only commence when the fabric has been received at the factory. Payment of fabric and delivery to the factory is the responsibility of the client.

All C.O.M needs to be approved before placement of order. Samples of C.O.M fabric may be requested prior to approval and will need to be sent to the factory to be tested before it is approved.

The client is fully responsible for ensuring the chosen fabric (Resident Specified or C.O.M) is suitable for the intended environment. Resident will not take any responsibility for damage due to improper environmental use.

Fire Safety Requirements

All fabrics specified currently meet EN 1021 and either BS 5852 1&2 or Crib 5 - or can be treated to meet these standards. Exception of Outback = EN 1021 and Ascona = BS 5852. Additional lead times may be quoted at time of order to allow for chemical flame-retardant treatment.

The foam and feather fill that Resident use meets UK fire safety requirements and will be labelled accordingly.

It is the responsibility of the client to advise at point of order the intended usage for the upholstery – i.e. domestic or non-domestic usage as this will determine the treatment required.

If C.O.M fabric is provided by the client is the clients responsibility to ensure it meets the fire safety requirements.

Leather

Leather is a unique natural material, there may be organically occurring imperfections in the hide, these may include growth marks, wrinkles insect bites & slight color variations. All leather will be supplied within commercial tolerance.

Warranty

Resident have a 3-year warranty on the upholstered furniture frames. The guarantee on the upholstery fabric is at the discretion of the fabric provider.

Fabric

Simon James Resident's creative director has selected the seasonal upholstery fabrics and leather color palate. Whilst a select edit per fabric is shown, all colors within the selected ranges are available to order – pending on availability.

Additional information for each fabric including warranty, care and maintenance guidelines, safety certifications can be sourced via the manufacturers websites:
